This unique line debuted in 2009 and has three different blends. The Connecticut Shade (mild to medium in body) and Habano Colorado (medium to full) are made in Nicaragua. The medium-bodied Criollo is made in Honduras and continues the Defiance blend, which was discontinued early in 2009. The HC Series band pictures a palm tree, meant to represent the El Corojo farm in Cuba where that style of tobacco was developed. All lines are offered in boxes of 21.
